

Skin Health Questions

To ask your veterinarian

1. How do I know if adverse reactions to foods are causing my pet to lick and scratch?
 - What causes adverse reactions to foods?
 - What are the different treatment options available?
2. How does food affect my pet's adverse reactions to foods?
 - What is a novel protein food?
 - How can fatty acids in food help?
 - What are the different food options available for pets with adverse reactions to foods and skin issues?
 - Is it okay to supplement my pet's dry food with canned food and treats?
3. How can food help my pet's skin issues?
 - Are there any nutritional concerns I need to worry about for my pet?
 - Request any guides, pamphlets or other useful information on pet adverse reactions to foods and skin health issues.
4. Why is Hill's® Prescription Diet® pet food right for my pet?
 - Ask your veterinarian why he or she recommended Prescription Diet to help manage your pet's skin health.
 - What does this recommended food mean to my pet's overall health?
 - Do I need to feed Prescription Diet for the rest of my pet's life to avoid adverse reactions to food?
 - How often do I need to feed Prescription Diet to my pet?
5. What kind of treats can I feed my pet to avoid adverse reactions to food?
 - Do I need to feed any other food supplements? If so, what do you recommend?
6. What is the best way to reach you or your hospital if I have any follow-up questions?
 - Request a follow-up appointment if necessary.
 - Ask if a reminder email or notice will be sent.

Veterinarian's name _____

Phone number _____

Off-hours emergency phone number _____

Email _____

